PRESTON SHANing less than an original diary kept by Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the system of telegraphy which bears his name.

The entries belonged to a brief but interesting period of his life, the year 1848, supplemented by transcripts of important correspondence dated back as far as 1843, when the electro-magnetic telegraph system was being constructed between

Washington and Baltimore. Edison put the book away carefully and took it with him when he established himself at his present country home in New Jersey. He has now placed it in the hands of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers with this comment in his accompanying letter of July 22, 1909: "As this appears to me to be a matter of great scientific and public interest, I feel that this journal should be placed where it may be accessible to others, and

A CHANGED MAN. The June bride is just as sweet
As on her brilliant wedding day;
Although it happened weeks ago,
She's just as sweet and true, I say.
But, oh! the groom, how he has changed!
Shame should be stamped upon his brow;
He smokes out on the porch alone,
He doesn't wipe the dishes now!
e.

Find the bride. Find the bride.
